

Now in its eleventh year, the LITHF's objective is to recognize, honor and preserve the contributions, accomplishments, and dedication of historical figures or current leaders in science or technology who have had, or are having, an impact. The event will be an evening reception on March 7, 2012 at the Garden City Hotel, Garden City, New York. It will begin with a cocktail reception and food stations at 6:00 pm followed by coffee and cake during the Induction Ceremony at 7:30 pm.

This year's inductees are Samuel H. Aronson, PhD, Brookhaven National Laboratory; Kevin Tracey, MD, The Feinstein Institute for Medical Research, Elmezzi Graduate School and North Shore-LIJ Health System; and Paul Richman, Standard Microsystems Corporation (retired). All inductees are extremely well known in their individual fields and as leaders of technology on Long Island.

We also present an Entrepreneur Award to an outstanding person who has harvested their technology business ideas on Long Island, leading to the creation of jobs and demonstrating their commitment to making Long Island a leader in technology businesses. This year, we are honoring Robert M. Brill, PhD, Managing General Partner, Newlight Associates.

The cost of this Gala Event is $250.00 per ticket.
